LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY: THURSDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 23, 1858.

The Analogical Versus the Approximate Cost of Gov. Helm's Memphis Branch.
When the wise man said "the way of the trans gressor is hard," he spake everlasting truth. Gov. Helm did sin when he assured our city fathers that if they would give him $300,000 he would huild a railroad from Bowling Green to the State line, which would connect Louisville with Memphis; and every step he has since taken to palliate that transgression has made his case worse. It goes harder and harder with him every day.

If there were nothing else to throw doubt upon the policy which would make Louisville give $300,000 toward this branch road, the manner in which Gov. Helm has presented the case is enough to kill the enterprise with uncertainty. He has not stated the cost iu a fair, a candid, or a business like way. He has disregarded his position as president of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and presented himself in the attitude of an engineer or contractor, aiming to get a job by so underrating the cost of completion as to draw the unwary into the snare of undertaking. When he partially unfolded his designs to our

City Council, he said that the road could be built from Bowling Green to the State line for $300,000. The distance being forty-eight miles, this estimate would make the cost something over $16,000 per mile. Reasoning from analogy, we could not understand how his road was to be made for that sum. There were known to be 26,210 miles of railroad in the United States, which had cost $920,000,000, or more than $35,000 per mile. The railroads in Kentucky, where this one was to be made, had cost $38,000 per mile, and Gov. Helm's own estimate of the cost per mile of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad was nearly double that at which he saw fit to fix the cost of his branch. We, therefore, assailed Gov. Helm's estimate and he at once saw that it would not bear inspection. He attempted then to sustain himself by an appeal to Mr. Olmstead's estimate. In doing this he made his case much worse. He did not quote Mr. Olmstead fairly. Mr. Olmstead, as reported, had gone over the ground and surveyed three distinct routes, the longest and most expensive of which he estimated at a length of 48 miles and at a cost of $971,462, independent of the rolling stock. He pronounced this route the most undesirable of the three for both Louisville and the L. & N. R. R. He said it would cost more, and require more time to run it, than either of the others, and that the grades and curves were worse upon this liue than upon either of the others. With this report before him, the president of the L. & N. R. R., who now professes such unbounded interest iu Louisville and in the road which he heads, constituted himself a plenary umpire to decide that this route was the one which Louisville was to have, and which the L & N. R. R. would sanction; and, in addition to this, misrepresented Mr. Olm stead as to the cost. Olmstead distinctly said that this 48 miles of road would cost $971,462, independent of the rolling stock; but Gov. Helm represented him as saving that it would cost $980. 00, including rolling stock and everything else. We exposed all this, and what did Gov. Ifelm ext do? He induced his board of directors to pass a resolution ordering the Chief Engiueer, George McLeod, to give his opinion of Mr. Olmstead's estimate, so as to shield the Governor, if possible, from the odium of these misrepresentatious. And how did Mr. McLeod do this? Why Olmstead's report, so as to reduce the cost as much as possible. But after all he could not bring it below Olmstead's estimate. He reduced it $187, 313 in the cost of iron, but had to raise it $150,000 for rolling stock. In other words, he got it up to nearly a million, instead of bringing it down to But in Mr. McLood's anxiety to reduce the cost of the road, and to sustain Gov. Helm in his misrepresentations as to the cost of the road, he gave his cause a fatal blow. He did the Memphis branch more harm, if possible, than Gov. Helm.

He used the following significant language: "Rul

the location at many points was an APPROXIMATE

he reviewed, re-revised and tampered with Mr

ONE MERRLY, and we were well aware at the time that udicious changes could be introduced by which the cost would be brought to a lower figure." Now, what arc we to think of such language as this? Does any sensible man believe that a competent engineer, sent out to survey a road, whose existence depended very much on its cheapness. would select and estimate the costliest of two or more contiguous routes? Do we not know that the cheapest was selected ex officio, and that the real cost will overgo rather than undercome the estimate thus made? But the fatal part of the language used by Mr. McLeod is that which confesses that Mr Olmstead's estimate was not upon actual survey. Mr. Olmstead did not, as Gov. Helm says, "make an actual survey, and by instrumental test, make an estimate of the full cost of the read." He only did it by approximation. "The location at many points was an approximate one merely." Mr. Olmstead may have stood upon a high hill, for fear of approximating so close to the lecation he was esimating as to make it cost too much. And as his location was "an approximate one merely," we think his estimate was an approximate one also, and that it did not approximate any too near to the true cost And now, after all this, are we not justified arriving at the cost of this road by analogy, or by comparing it with other completed roads whose cost we know? Gov. Helm can't give us any reliable data, and even if he could we would not trust him after his manner of treating Mr. Olmstead's estimate. We insist, therefore, that as the average cost of all the railroads in the Union has been more than $35,000 per mile, and that those in Kentucky, taken alone, have averaged more than $33,000 per mile, it is not unfair, but is very liberal, to put this one down at $30,000 per mile. As it is 48 miles long, it will cost $1,440,000. The Governor has $300,000 Logan county bonds, $100,000 promised individual subscriptions, and with this he asks Louisville to give hin $800,000 bonds to complete the road. If he suffered no discounts on these securities, he would not have half enough to complete his road. But if he suffered in discounts as he has heretofore on similar securities, he would only have $550,000 with which to do $1,440,000 worth of work. How he is to make up this deficit of $890,000 he don't sav, but if the tax payers of Louisville once emhark in this enterprise they will find out. They will either have to make up the deficit or lose the $300,000 he now asks of them, if they should be so unwise as to give it. Are the tax payers of Louisville ready, then, to give $300,000 now, and $390,000 hereafter, making in all $1,190,000, for a road that gives no assurance that it will go one foot further than Clarksville in any reasonable time, and that never can get to Memphis except by zig-zag and out-of-the-way connections with numerous other roads, one at least of which is not now incorporated ?

The President of the Louisville and Nashville

Railroad says that in the winter of 1856 we proposed to him, in a speech at the Merchants' Exchange in this city, to sell bonds at fifty cents. Well what if we did advise him to sell at some price after he had failed to convince capitalists in Germany, France, and England, to say nothing of this country, that they ought to invest in his Hardin county bonds! We did not want the road to stop, and as he had virtually ruined the sale of his bonds at home and abroad, we advised him to sell Office on Jefferson street, between Second and Third streets, South side, Louisville. jyl dly Hardin county bonds in Frankfort, Paris, or Lon-Auction and Commission Merchant, Helm, is not fit to have the disposal of such secu-

THE KENTUCKY MECHANICS' INSTITUTE. SIXTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION.

A correspondent writes as begging that we shall call the attention of the management of the Institute to what he considers a "nuisance." He obects to the small boys who frequent the exhibition hall with boquets, proffering them for sale. They are a source of annoyance to our friend, as they are to others; for, he says, these venders of flowers wicked and saucy fellows) impertinently offer their boquets when young gentlemen and ladies are engaged in promenading, or holding a lete a tote in some snug corner. It is unpleasant, argues this writer, thus to be disturbed, as it is not every one who has a spare quarter, and to refuse making a purchase would have the semblance of meanness in the young ladies' eyes. We submit the question to the proper authorities. RANGES, STOVES, AND CASTINGS.

Messrs. Wright & Bridgeford make a fine display of articles in their line. The extensive ranges are models of fine workmanship. For hotels and boarding houses they will be pre-eminently useful, combining both economy and consenience. Their parlor, cooking, and other stoves, are of various patterns-all neat and durable, while their castings embrace every description of culinary article requisite in housekeeping. A beautifully burnished copper still and worm cannot escape the observation of the most indifferent. We have never seen a finer specimen of copper-

PILOT WHEEL, HOISTING TACKLE, ETG. On the east side of the hall will be found a magnificent wheel, designed for a steamboat, and constructed by Mr. Jno. J. Hair, whose establishment is at the corner of Eight and Water streets. This wheel is really a beantiful specimen of art-the wood being highly polished and tastefully inlaid. It is of great strength, and in the hands of a skillal helmsman, could steer any steamer through he most dangerous and difficult channels of onr western waters. A fine hoisting apparatus, and in anchor, to be depended upon as good at holding ast, are exhibited as specimens of the articles produced at Mr. Hair's manufactory. He is confined exclusively to supplying steamers with this eculiar part of their outfit.

STAR-LIGHT AND ILLUMINATING ARTICLES. The very novel and attractive specimens of tearine, from Messrs. Armstrong & Co., are very ngenious. An evergreen tree appears as if brouded with snow, while in one of its branch s there is a picturesque statue of an old man. There are icebergs of stearine, and all sorts of antastic groupings-some of them of a dazzlingy brill iant green hue. These curiosities are only hown, we suppose, to attract the attention of the visitor to the real products of Messrs. Armstrong and Co .- their star candles, soap, &c. HOW CANDLES ARE MADE. How these beautiful lights are made, the reader

perhaps does not know. Suppose we enlighten hem. Not only are the butchers' stalls ransacked for the raw material, but the palm forests of West Africa searched, heavy shipments rom the tropics being required by our Lousville manufacturers. Tallow and palm oil, the ast a reddish substance nearly as solid as cheese, are put in equal proportions into a vat twelve feet by three, and thoroughly melted into a dark yelow color by applying steam. It is then pumped iuto an "acidifier," where it receives its modicum of oil of vitriol. The immediate effect of the sulphuric acid is to color it black, though the agency s whitening in the end. The liquid now passes brough a distilling contrivauce and on through ipes into the cellar, where it is turned into pans to ool. Next the cakes thus formed are placed in horse hair bags, arranged in a press of five hundred tons power, and squeezed until all the oily and pressure in a second machine are then ap. plied, to perfect the preceding process, and the ontents, now becoming pure with steariue, are mptied into a general receiver. The next step is shovel the stearine into barrels, hoist it to the mouldering room in the third story, and renelt it again as at first, by steam. At these vats operatives stand with tin scoops in hand and pass the liquid stearine into the moulds. As soon as the latter are filled, thin wooded boards that separate the moulding machinery from the works below are withdrawn, and currents of air from a huge fan, kept in motion by the engine, rush in aud cool the candles. Here the moulding forms are taken off, and their contents emptied into large ead-lined water boxes. After washing they are olled in linen towels, to polish them, and taken out to a shed for exposure for some hours to the sun, by which they are bleached to a clear, pure white. adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased an all-wise Providence to call from our inidst Mr. Bryan Roach, our late employer, we cannot but, as a body, express our sincere regret at his loss, for we esteemed him as a man of virtue and benevolence, and we deeply sympathize with his family in their irreparable loss of a kind and good protector, husband and father. Our prayers are that Divine Providence may, in his infinite mercy and wisdom, guide and protect the widow and children in this their great affliction. Therefore,

Resolved, That in this we express our sympathy with the surviving partner, Mr. Dennis Long, in the regret that he feels for the loss of a companion in business, and a partner of toil.

Resolved, That a copy of this, our token of love and respect so feebly expressed, be presented to the family of the deceased, and that the above be printed in the morning papers of Louisville.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Courier.] EMINENCE, Ky., Sept. 21st, 1958. Editors Louisville Courter:-The eighth anual exhibition of the l'uion A. and M. Association began near this place to-day. The atendance is not so good as we have seen in former years, although the month is fair and everything is inviting. Indeed, we are surprised that this and adjoining counties do not take a deeper interest in this fair. We expect an excellent how the next three days, as our farmers take more pride in horse-flesh than quilts and sweet otatoes. The display of the two last mentioned rticles, by the by, was very good. We cannot particularize each article, but send a list of preniums awarded to-day. The horse ring is not as full as was anticipated, but the horses are No. 1. The owners will do themselves credit, if they take them to the State fair, near Louisville—which is to be the fair of 1858—as all the fine stock from the different fairs in the State will be exhibited the different fairs in the State will be exhibited there. Mr. C. S. Moore, of Shelby cennty, took premium on his aged stallion "Milo;" and we confidently believe, should be take him to the State fair, he will wear the "blue string." Fearful Erial Voyage. A telegraphic dispatch yesterday announced that the balloon which carried off Thurston, the eronaut, at Adrian, Mich., under fearful circumstances, on Thursday, came down some honrs afterwards. He was seen on it before it was se. cured, and was thought to be somewhere in the marshes. The following are the particulars of the affair from the Toledo Blade :

A gloom is suddenly thrown over the symps hizing public, by a sad termination to the bal-oon ascension at Adrian yesterday. We learn the facts from a gentleman who has seen and con-versed with most of the persons interested. The balloon, with Messrs. Bannister and Thurston in the car, arose from the inclosure at about 83 o'clock. It went up steadily and beautifully taking a southeast direction, and soon became lost to the sight of the multitude assembled at Adrian. After the eronauts had been up what they considered a sufficient length of time, they let the gas escape slowly and made a handsome descent near Knight's Station, (Riga Postoffice) a few miles from Sylvania. The eronauts step-ped from the car, and immediately proceeded to nfasten the car, and remove the netting from the alloon, which gradually turned over, finally restng with the neck upward. Mr. Thurston got straddle of the main valve, which was a circular wooden box or frame, fixed in the top of the gas sack, (which was very large, containing 25,000 cubic feet of gas,) and was engaged in forcing back the valve, which opened inward, at the same time requesting Mr. Bannister to notice the neck of the bag. The latter, Mr. B., who was busy with the netting, neglected to do it.

The moment the netting was off, the sack auddenly arose, and Mr. T. still clung to the valve.

Mr. B. instautly grasped for the ascending balloon, but Thurston exclaimed—"Bold on, Bannister she will some come down again," for he supter, she will soon come down again;" for he sup-posed that his comrade had untied the neck of the sack, which would, of conrse, soon relieve it of gas, and therefore of its upward tendencies; but he was doomed to a terrible disappointment. Up, and up, the balloon ascended with its precious burden of human life, and, when ast seen by the horrified Bannister, was full two miles high, and sailing rapidly to the northward.

Mr. B., sick at heart, and dreadfully alive to the extreme danger of his comrade, hurried to Sylvania, arriving in time for the up train (from Toledo, 11.25 A. M.) on which he soon arrived at Adrian, with the unhappy tidings.

Mr. Thurston resided in Adrian, and has a daughter there, his wife being dead. Hopes are yet entertained of his having landed in safety somewhere in the interior, by perferating the sack with his knife, or some other means. Noth-ing further had been heard from him up to a late bonds at home and abroad, we advised him to sell on the work. We did not advise, however, that the city or any of the countries should give him any more bonds to sell, and, if we keep our senses, we are well give such advice. He has had enough to do with city and county bonds to convirone ustake he is not the man to inspire the confidence that they deserve. A man who would attempt to sell hardin county bonds in Frankfort, Paris, or London, through the agencies employed by Governor Helm, is not fit to have the disposal of such securities.

Thrilling Aerial Adventure.

We published on Tuesday the saugular and thrill ng ascent of two children into the clouds in a alloon, and their subsequent safety. The fulue ing, from the St. Louis Republican, gives more minute details:

As soon afterwards as possible an extra was in aned at Centralia, Illinois, and the whole neigh-boring country placed on the alert to watch for the balloon and children.

Saturday morning at daybreak, a farmer near New Carthage, forty three miles distant from Mr. Harvey's place, discovered the balloon suspended in the air, attached by the grappling rope to a ree in his vard. He immediately hauled the bal-oon down, and found the youngest child asleep in the bottom of the basket, and the eldest carefully watching over her little brother. They had been wafted about by different currents of air through ont the night, and had come to a halt but a little while before they were relieved.

The story the girl told was that as the bailo a ascended she cried piteonsly to her father to pull it down. She said she passed over a town where st down. She said she passed over a town where she saw a great many people, to whom she like wise appealed at the top of her voice. This place was Centralia. The balloon was seen to pass over there, but the people little imagined it carried two persons in such danger. Her little brother cried with cold, and the heroic girl took off her apron with cold, and the heroic girl took off her apron, covered him, and got him to sleep. In handling the ropes she happened to pull one which had the effect of bringing the balloon down, and although not understanding the philosphy of the nave ment, she was quite content to keep the valve open so long as by so doing she found she approached the certh.

The youthful aerial voyagers were in the balloon about thirteen hours and a quarter. It may easily be imagined that among the neighbors where they landed they were the objects of much curiosity and interest. The girl's presence of mind and loving consideration for her brother, may well entitle her to remembrance, while the incident itself was of such a remarkable character that we onine it will not soon be forestered. ter that we opine it will not soon be forgotten in as practicable, and it is needless to say were received with outstretched arms. [Reported for the Louisville Courter.] POLICE COURT.

The telegraph informs us that the wandering balloon and its unwilling passenger, Mr. Thurston, were seen at a quarter past one o'clock on Thursday afternoon in the direction of Malden, C. W. It would seem from this that it was going from the lake, and thus some little hope is offered for him safe decents and thus some little hope is offered.

C. W. It would see a from this that it was going from the lake, and thus some little hope is offered for his safe descent—and but very little. The only hope, of course, is, that he may have been able to retain his position until the gas shall have so far escaped as to let the balloon down, and that his place of descent shall be a favorable one.—The chances are certainly against this; for, if the inflation was as perfect as represented, he must have ascended in an altitude at which, in consequence of the rarity and coldness of the atmosphere, his self-control and consciousness, in a month in $100.

quence of the rarity and coldness of the atmosphere, his self-control and consciousness, in a great measure, would be lost.

The Blade, in another article upon this distressing ascension of Mr. Thurston, says:

In connection with this and event, the circumstances connected with another balloon belonging to Mr. Bannister, may be of interest. Some four years since, without any particular knowledge of eronantics, he constructed a large balloon at Adrian, with which, after several ineffectual attempts, he finally made a grand ascension; so perfect, indeed, was it, that he froze his feet very badly on the voyage, and was crippled thereby for a long time.

Somewhat satisfied with his own experience, he hired his balloon to Timothy Winehester, at Milan, Eric county, who made a very successful voyage from that place, in July, 1855, and landed near Houston, O., after traveling in different directions, some 125 miles. He ascended till the rarity of the accounty was all taken but a quarter of a dollar. He had seen the statement of the city ways, he was held to built a month in $100.

The Davenport (lows) News of the 18th, says there is to be a foot race among the lady pupils of Dr. Lewls, at Iowa City. The Dr. is a seturer on phislology, gymnastics, etc. We don't think women can run very fast, but we would like to see the race. However, as we can't be there, we bet on the woman with the smallest hoops -it would be absurd to say the one that don't wear boops-all-of them do that. SLOW BUT SURE.-The cars on the L. & N. rail. road will commence running regularly to Nolin, Hardin county, next week. The work goes brave ly, slowly on.

Our Next Governor.
Canton Yeoman, a sterling Democratic weekly, published at Canton, a flourishing town of some 800 of the cleverest sort of inhabitants, on the Cumberland river, forty miles from Its mouth, in Trigg county, Ky., thus speaks of the prospects of Col. Preston in the next Gubernato.

For Governor-WM. Preston.-We believe hat it is a conceded fact that Col. Wm. Preston, of Louisville, is to be the next Democratic candidate for Governor of Kentacky. We heartly concur; for we believe that Louisville, for her noble effort in hehalf of Revill, the late Democratic ble effort in hebalf of Kevill, the late Democratic candidate for Clerk Court Appeals, is entitled to the Governor; besides this, there is no ahler or more available man in the State than Col. When Preston as our standard bearer in 1859, we believe that our majority will exceed 20,000. However, we do not wish to be understood as trying to disparance the claims of understood as trying to disparage the claims of any other gentleman. The choice of the Convention is our choice.

"The weapons used were dueling pistols, and the distance ten paces, or less than thirty feet.—

Three shots were exchanged without effect. At the fourth, the ball from Mr. Wise's pistol struck Mr. Clemens on the right thigh, a little below the hip, and passed through—causing a serious frac-ture of the bone. Mr. Wise was uninjured."

HORRIBLE DEATH-A MAN REVOLVING ON SHAFT—100 REVOLUTIONS A MINUTE.—A terrible accident occurred a few days since at Calllecon, Sullivan county, N. Y., to Henry Erberts, a citizen of that place. He went to the grist-mill of W. L. Weed, with some grain, and while there his clothes became entangled with a perpendicular shaft, which whirled him at the rate of one hundred revolutions, a minute, and at each resolution. dred revolutions a minute, and at each revolution his body struck the woodwork. The machinery was stopped as soon as possible, but his hones and flesh were so broken and bruised that he died shortly after.

SUICIDES AMONG BOATMEN. - The heatmen have mania for killing themselves of late, and we now chronicle two more deaths. At New Orleans Mr. Barrois, clerk of the Compromise, put an end to his existence by shooting himself with a Colt's revolver, on board the boat. Thomas Adams, of Pittsburgh, a striker on the Southern Belle, during her late trin to Memphis competited with ing her late trip to Memphis, committed suicide In the texas by cutting his throat with a razor, in a frightful manner. Disappointed affection said to be the cause of the rash act.

Durl.—A duel took place this morning about So'clock, near the Half-way house, on the Metairie Ridge, hetween Mr. Geo. Wood, of the True Delta newspaper, and Mr, John M. Brabazan, late of that paper. The weapons used were Mississippirifies, distance forty paces. Three shots were exchanged, but neither party was hurt. We learn that after the third shot Mr. Brahazan's friends removed him from the ground and that the diff. removed him from the ground, and that the diffi-culty still remains unsettled.—N. O. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS .- Prepar 7. M. Jackson, No. 418 Arch street, Ph READ WHAT IS SAID OF 17.

Scort, Cortland Co., N. Y., March 21st, 1857.

Dr. C. M. Jackson-Dear Sir:-In behalf of the afflicted, I pen a few lines to you. I have suffered and doctored myself, and know how to pity those in a like condition. Until I commenced taking your Bitters last summer. I was not able to do any thing, or even to sit up any considerable length of time. Before I had taken the first hottle I felt like a new man, and now, after having continued the use of them a short time, in the worst season of the year, I am able to labor hard every day. To say the least, I think I have received more henefit from the Bitters than all other medicines I have taken. I have not only used medicines I have taken. I have not only used your Bltters myself, hut have given bottles and parts of hottles to those complaining of Dyspepsla and Liver Complaint, and in every case, they tell me they have taken no medicine so beneficial as the Bitters. Respectfully yours JAMES VON BENSHOTTER. The Bitters are sold by druggists or storekeepers in every town and village in the United States, Canadas, West Indies and South America,

I GHES? TONIC is purely vegetable in its composition, and will be found peculiarly adapted to the cure of Chills and Fever in all cases, and particularly so in delicate females and children. In nervous and debilitated constitutions, caused by ague and other malarious diseases, it will be found of decided benefit by counteracting any nervous derangement, and by giving tone to the Stomach and Liver, thereby restoring the system to its natural vigor. In its effects it differs from Quinine in producing no headache, giddiness, nausea, or any other unpleasant sensations whatever. Testimonials of its efficancy can be seen at our store at any time.

TONIC SIRUP. HE attention of dealers in Drugs and Medicines, and pers no afficient with Chills and Fever, or Ague and Fover, is respectfully invited to this celebrated medicine, which has justly obtained a high reputation throughout the country, and for many years has maintained its superiority over all other remedies, as a sufe, certain, speedy, and permanent cure for Chilis and Fever, or Ague and Fever.

The public may rely upon the fact that it is entirely vegetable in its composition, and made from the best, purest, carefully selected reliable articles, and is always prepared by the proprietor in person, and, therefore, he can warrant it uniform in quality. ant is uniform in quality.

Its Diaphoretic and Alterative properties, combined with his great Tonic qualities, render it eminently superior to judine, and other remedies, as a general and popular renedy in all cases where a Tonic is required and proper to guinne, and other remedies, as a general and popular remedy in an eases where a touch is required and proper to be administered.

It does not produce Headache, Giddiness, Buzzing of the Ears, or any of the unpleasant effects which so frequently attend the use of Quinne, or other remedies, but may be given in all cases, and under all obcumatances whatever, to Females, Infants, and all persons who are debilitated, or have the most delicate constitutions, without Practitioners of medicine who have not prescribed it, and afficted persons who have not used it, are respectfully invited to give? but a fairtrial, and they will then be convinced of its great superiority over other remedies and that the possesses all the virtues claimed for it.

It is notonly perfectly safe and innocent in its effect, but in no case whatever has it been known to fall in caring Chills and Fever, or Ague and Fever, whether of short or long standing, if the directions were strictly followed and carried out. Chills and Fever, or Ague and Fever, whether of short or long standing, if the directions were strictly followed and carried out.

This medicine has become a staple remedy, and for years has been extensively used throughout the States of Kentincky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Oado, Indiana, Nebraska, Pennesytvania, Michigan, and California, and mere lately in Kansas Territory, and has permanently cured near 2,000,000 of cases in all its varied forms and conditions, many of which were from one to three years' standina, and had resisted all the usual remedies known in the country, and in no case did it fail to make a perfect and permanent cure where the directions were properly followed. Such is its marriable success that it has galaca the confidence, favor, and patronage of a large number of respectable practitioners of medicine throughout the country, who prescribe and administer it in preference to Quinine and other remedies.

Persons living in districts of country subject to Chilis and Fever, and Fever, or Billions Fever, would do well to keep a constant supply of this invaluable remedy always on hand.

The proprietor has in his possession a large number of certificates and other restimonials from persons who have used this medicine, as well as from Physicians, Druggists, Apothecaries, and other desiers in medicine, attesting its superior virtues as a curative in Chilis and Fever, or Ague and Fever; and he could obtain many thousands more, or snough to fill a large volume, but does not de mit necessary, as it is already extensively and favorably known to the public renerality.

board before the Cable was laid, in which case the quantity is loo small to be worthy of notice.

There is a peculiar interest attached to the Cable which you have bought—twenty niles of it were actually submerged in the ocean, and recovered, while through all of it the electric signals were boing transmitted during the whole of the time occupied in laying the cable. Of course any quantity of cable can be manufactured in England, and many specimens have heen circulated in this country, but to few, if any of these, attaches the peculiar value which the cable purchased by you possesses, from the tact that they were part and parcel of the cable which is now actually laid.

I remain, gentlemen, very truly your friend, he cable which is now accumity twin.

Spirits.
The proprietor, in calling the attention of the public to his preparation, does no with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its virtues and adaptation; or the disease for which it is recommended.
It is no new and untried article, but one that has stood the test of a ten years' trial before the American people, and its reputation and sale is unrivalled by any similar preparation extant. The testimony in its favor given by the most prominent and well-known Physicians and individuals in all parts of the country is immense, and a careful perusal of the Almanac, published annually by the proprietor, and to be had gratis of any of his Agents, cannot but satisfy the most skeptical that this remedy is really deserving the great celebrity it has obtained.

COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER,
WEDNESDAY EVENINO, Sept. 22. We hear of no material change in the market this week for the leading articles of wholesale trade, but remark rather a limited inquiry for Flour, while Wheat s in better demand. Later foreign news was reselved vesterday, which though imparting no direct influence hera, will have a strengthening tendency, as Cotton and breadstuffs were firmer and the money market easy. Our stocks of Groceries are light, but the new grop in tha South is not only very promising, but earlier than usual. New Molasses was received in New Orleans on the 16th, and Sugar on the 20th. The prospects of the Hog and Corn crops are now of great interest, though as yet no considerable stir has been manifested in regard to the purchase of hogs. The Corn crep in this State will be an abundant one, and we notice the arri val of several large droves of hoge from the interior of Indiana, which had been purchased at 8a3% cts. gross. on speculation, and sent ever here to be driven to Har din county to fatten. We also hear of a sale of 8,000 hoge on the Upper Mississippi at 8%a4% cts., net, to be delivered in December at an eligibic point on the river. The purchase was made by a Louis-lile packer who has the refusal of as many more at the same figures The weather has been clear and warm throughout the weak, and a good rain is much wanted.
